

New Dairy Building at 2009 Farm Science Review

Department of Animal Sciences

The Ohio State University

The Buckeye Dairy Club, American Dairy Association Mideast, and the Ohio Dairy Producers Association have teamed up to be located at the same location at F13 Friday Avenue during the annual Farm Science Review – the same location used for many years by the Buckeye Dairy Club to provide you with deliciously refreshing milk shakes. With the leadership provided by Scott Higgins, the dairy industry groups funded the construction of a scarlet and gray building now located on the site. You will be able to get the famous milk shakes, learn about Ohio's dairy farm families in the People Behind the Product program, and how marketing is benefitting the dairy industry. AND, it will be the debut of offering grilled cheese sandwiches and a Buckeye Blizzard. The ribbon cutting will be Tuesday, September 22, 9:00 am – stop in and join in the excitement of these new offerings!
